

*The Graduate Women in Engineering,
the Graduate Academic Diversity Program, in collaboration with* the Dept. of Mechanical Engineering's initiative on Equity, Diversity and Inclusion

Present:

The Fundamentals of Networking

Thursday, November 5th, 4:30-7:00PM
Location to be Announced

Workshop

Andrea Sparrey, MBA
Sparrey Consulting

An often-overlooked element of the engineering education, networking is becoming a necessary skill for all academics and professionals to ensure access to the best job opportunities and funding. Ms. Sparrey will focus on the fundamentals of networking and introduce methods for initiating conversation, communicating your message, and building and maintaining your network.

Reception

Join fellow students, faculty and Berkeley Engineering alumni for a wine and cheese reception following the workshop. This is a great opportunity to practice your new networking skills and start making contacts!

For more information: www.me.berkeley.edu/gwe and me.berkeley.edu/new/students/diversity